Maritim Fjordhotel

Experience "Sørlandet"

Idyllic south coast between mountains

Flekkefjord is the westernmost city municipalities in the southern part of Norway, sentral between Stavanger and Kristiansand.

In addition to the city center Flekkefjord also includes the villages Sira, Gyland and Hidra.

Flekkefjords picturesque south coast culture is an attraction in itself, with the streets and the white houses which looks almost as it did 100 years ago. The city has also a rich variety of big and small shops, cafes and galleries. During 2016 they will also get their own culture house.

Flekkefjord is situated along the "Nordsjøvegen" that winds along the coast from Kristiansand to Haugesund in an exciting and varied landscape. In 2006 the city got a star in the Michelin-guide for "One of the most charming white villages of the green coast".

On tour

Flekkefjord has a wonderful hiking terrain for all ages, if you want to hike the high mountains or just take a stroll along the beaches – the choice is yours.

The island pearl Hidra

A visit to the charming and beautiful island Hidra is an adventure everybody should experience. Hidra is Vest-Agders biggest island with its 600 residents. The island is popularly called "the pearl of the south coast" and for a good reason. Hidra has a beautiful archipelago that offers a rich plant and wildlife in addition to culture- and historic monuments.

DRESIN CYCLING

Flekkefjord offers many attractions and activities and one of our most popular ones in town is riding the dresin bike on the old Flekkefjord railway. Every year thousands bicycles the 34 kilometer long route and gets a nature experience of a lifetime.

The culture trail

In the 15-, 16- and 1700s many dutch people settled down in Flekkefjord and earned a living through trading oak timber, granite and lobster. The need for commodities in their home country was huge. To this day, Flekkefjord oak and huge amounts of granite that supports the city of Amsterdam. The dutch people have also put their mark on Flekkefjord, which is also called dutch city.

Knaben mines

The village Knaben in Kvinesdal is built around mining and is also known for its mining of molybden. Molybden was important for the armor industri and the germans built huge fortresses around Knaben. In 1943 it was attacked twice by the allied forces. Come along on a guided tour in the mines and in the museum.
